

Eric Levy Memorial Prize Teacher Recommendation

Eric Levy was a gifted violin/viola player at Pittsford Mendon High School and in the community at large. A 2013 MHS graduate, he was a passionate musician intent on studying Music Education at the University of Hartford--Hartt School of Music. Sadly, a medical event at age 18 years ended his life before his dreams of becoming a music educator could be realized. He is remembered not only for his talent, but for his warmth, friendship, laughter and determination. The Eric Levy Memorial Prize recipient should embody those qualities that reflect and inspire personal and music excellence and for which Eric is dearly missed.

Nominees for the Eric Levy Memorial Prize should be graduating seniors who intend to major in music education at an institution of higher learning. In the event that no graduating senior will pursue such a degree, it may be awarded to a graduating senior who otherwise exhibits a passion for educating students in music, such as through internships, volunteer activities, etc.
