

Creative Writing Prompts

“Creativity is intelligence having fun.” - Albert Einstein

In your journal, you can either choose to respond to one of the reader response prompts, or you can engage in some creative writing. Below are a series of prompts or story starters designed to spark your imagination. Have fun!

Creative writing prompts:

- What is the most incredible place you have ever been or seen? What makes it so impressive?
- If you had a super power, what would it be and why?
- Rewrite a fairy tale from the point of view of the antagonist.
- What is your first memory? Describe it in as much detail as possible.
- If you could live in any television or movie world, as yourself, what would you choose and why?
- If the internet were to crash forever, what would be the benefits? The drawbacks?
- If you starred in a television show about your life, what would the show be called? Why?
- Summarize a plot of an episode in the show about your life.
- You get to take one book, one food item, and one famous person to a deserted island. What and who would you choose and why?
- Write a powerfully supportive e-mail to yourself ten years from now.
- If a wizard could tell you anything about your future, what would you like to know?
- What would your friends say is your best quality? Describe that quality.
- You have just traveled one hundred years into the future, what is the world like now?
- You have a time machine that can take you to any point in the past. Where and when would you go? Why?
- Create your own prompt and respond to it.

Story Starters

- The bell rang, and I couldn't wait to get home for...
- I opened the door to find the solution to all the world's problems...
- The lights dimmed and the curtains opened...
- As I boarded the last train, lightning flashed across the sky...
- One million followers and counting. This is how I did it...
- One minute I was playing the video game, and the next, I was in it...
- I sat shivering, trying to remember how I got here...
- Five more minutes. That's all I needed before...
- And the winner is...
- I never believed in unicorns, but then...
- As we ran through the tunnel, the crowd erupted in cheers...
- The lights started to flicker, first blue, then white...
- We just reached the very top of the Ferris Wheel when...
- I picked up the shell from the beach, put it to my ear, and I couldn't believe...
- They told me the place was haunted, but I didn't believe in ghosts. Until...
- I opened up the suitcase, only to find that it wasn't mine...
- Create your own story starter and take it from there...
